FOREWORD

SAFWCO entered in partnership with Rutgers on engaging men to eliminate GBV with project title “Prevention Plus” for five years of partnership from 2018 to 2021. Whereas current SAFWCO interventions “Access to Justice” by OXFAM and WASH remain at core programmatic interventions.

As an organization to develop both human and institutional capital, we have been battling social and economic backwardness which is multifaceted in forms of weak governance, climate change context, and poor delivery of service provider Govt: department, societal stoic standing over GBV and many other forms. As a result, we are now lagging behind in achieving all SDG goals for current and forthcoming years.

We highly appreciate our funding partner’s role in community development arena over a period of 2017-2018. These include, Addressing Root Causes (funded by Oxfam –GB), Yes I Do and Prevention Plus (funded by Rutgers) and Wash Services (funded by UNICEF). We hope and pray that our partners will continue to oxygenate our efforts and perseverance in bringing back the smiles on the frustrated faces of mankind.

I am thankful to SAFWCO Board who have provided us guidance and encouragement at every stage of our growth. SAFWCO is also grateful to our partners who have provided us technical and financial assistance and have always endorsed to our strategy and vision. I feel inspired to dedicate progress of this year to our hardworking and committed team, who consider development as an enduring passion.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

It is indeed a great honor for me to present a brief look at yearly achievement of our organization for the year 2018, depicting a deep insight into the sphere of work of SAFWCO which has a mission to organize and facilitate the poor to refurbish their dignity and self-reliance.

SAFWCO team continued its efforts to contributing communities “Easy access to justice” by providing capacity building sessions to 594 UC level Ba Ikhtiar group member formed under the project in three districts of Sindh. It is a great pleasure for SAFWCO that the targeted Ba Ikhtiar group members provided step down sessions to their relevant 5,635 community members through study circles. During these sessions, different law related topics were discussed and solutions were sought under legitimate legal law and channels.

Regarding health and social rights of adolescent populations who are at the verge of great vulnerability in our society, SAFWCO is encountering this form of GBV by educating and mentoring adolescent boys and girls in school of Sanghar and Umerkot with Whole school approach, a noble approach introduced by Rutgers for well being of adolescent students in SRHR, education, personal and family well being.

Concurrent to GBV elimination strategy of Yes I do project, this year we have launched new and innovative approach by partnering with men and boy to create a society where all men and women enjoy equal rights and societal status. During the reporting period, 35 villages of district Sanghar were focused for different activities including community theaters, community trainers, FM radio messaging, cable net spot, series of dialogues with fathers on safe parenthood etc. Although the project is in its startup phase, yet looking at its impact magnitude in a short span of months, we can highly expect that the project will be quite instrumental in combatting household violence against girls and women.

On the fronts of WASH, SAFWCO WASH team accomplished all targets of ODF certification and post sustainability in district of Nausheroferoz. This year WASH team also reached to Nomadic population and prisoners in Jail where they were provided with health and hygiene awareness education. This was a novel WASH BCC activity in wash related interventions. We feel great honor that, WASH sector of SAFWCO has ensured 360 villages of Taluka Mehrabpur are now open defecation free villages and are fully aware of standard health and hygiene indices. We highly expect that inducted CRPs will continue to play their roles in the communities and would replace SAFWCO’s role as intermediary resource persons.

ADDRESSING ROOT CAUSES

SAFWCO has entered into five year programme (from April 2017 to March 2021) partnership with OXFAM & Safer World titled “improved access to fair, legitimate and effective justice system in Pakistan” in three districts of Sindh namely Khairpur, Sanghar and Hyderabad. For most people it is hard to access, due to a backlog of cases. For poor and marginalized groups it is simply too costly and geographically out of reach. As a result most Pakistanis continue to rely on informal justice systems – non-state methods of conflict resolution – which in most cases are not acknowledged by the Pakistani government.

The objective of the proposed project is to contribute to an effective justice system that is accessible for all citizens in Pakistan. In parallel, the proposed project will reach out to the local communities, low-status groups, women and youth. It will engage with them to understand their challenges in accessing justice, and build their capacity to work with CSOs, justice providers and government authorities to develop practical solutions for more inclusive justice provision and recommendations for reform in the broader system. It will empower communities to know and claim their rights while increasing the ability and accountability of individuals and institutions that are responsible for respecting, protecting and fulfilling human rights. Faiza lives in a village with less formal education and lack of basic facilities. Most of the villagers of her area including her family members depend on raising cattle, farming and labor for their livelihood. It was quite big achievement of Faiza to pass intermediate as most of the girls of her Union Council (UC) are not literate, however she was not allowed to get higher education due to poverty and she had to stay at home and help her family in household activities and look after the cattle. However, she has been working in Private School with a low salary of 6000/ per month sine few years.

People in rural areas take tiny matters seriously and start clashes with each other without caring any kind of blood relationship and same environment exists in their area. Mostly issues of matrimonial disputes occurs between the family members which are either resolved through interference of the head of the villages or local influential or continue for centuries which result in permanent enmity between the families and braderis.

Faiza and her family members had been facing this kind of issue since last few years. Faiza shared that her brother Mr. Mohammad Ali contracted marriage with Ms. Musarat few years back and both were passing their life happily, but suddenly wife of her brother started quarrel on petty matters with her husband, father-in-law and with Fiaza also. They all were joint family and lived together in same house. she told that her father always tried to always mediate to resolve disputes between them but Musarat was not ready to compromise and started blackmailing her whole family members and was bent upon to dissolve the marriage with Mohammad Ali .

Due to social constraints, her family members could not disclose this issue in their village. After solemnizing his brother with lady named Musarat, her family was disturbed and her father Mr. Allah Dito approached to the local heads and influential to resolve the issue but all these efforts gone in vain. Difficulties were increasing day by day for her family members and there was no any ray of hope for her family in terms of resolution of the matter amicably.

Meanwhile SAFWCO team went in the area and met with notables and community members of Union Bafoo and introduced the Program “Improved Access to Fair, Legitimate, and Effective Justice in Pakistan”. Faiza attended the initial mobilization meetings of the SAFWCO team and became member of Ba-Ikhtiar group. Faiza participated in various meetings and training of the Ba-Ikhtiar group and got information and Knowledge about formal and semi-formal justice particularly regarding the family laws.

Meanwhile Faiza was astonished to receive a court notice for appearing before family judge Khairpur. Actually the family members of Ms. Musrat have fabricated many false cases against family of Faiza and also filed a suit for dissolution of marriage and claimed about 7 lacs as Haq Muhar.
At this moment of time Faiza decided to convince her father to share this issue with members of the Ba-Ikhtiar group in the monthly meeting to get guidance and help. As Faiza was now become familiarized about muslim family law, so she encouraged her brother to defend the case in the family court, but as her family was poor so they cannot afford the fees of advocate.

Family of Faiza not lost the hope and as per guidance from SAFWCO team, her family contacted representatives of local welfare organization who agreed and facilitated her family. The case was pursued in the court for few months and was finally adjudicated in favor of brother of Faiza.

This decision in the favor of family of Faiza is an ample proof of the confidence and courage of Faiza due to sufficient knowledge about family laws that she received during training sessions and meetings.

“I belong to rural area of district Khairpur Sindh, where women often follow the customs and social constraints. Women of these areas are deprived of their social, economic and legal rights and it is also not strange for them to become victims and bear violence. But now I and other women of my UC have become agent of change against these social evils, and my family is one of the best example of this change” Faiza Said.

Social Activist took firm stand against early Marriage

Noor Khan Sanderani was marrying his 14 years daughter Ameena with one of his villager in collusion with elder of the village Mr. Asghar Sanderani which was quite illegal but father of Ameena was not aware about the early marriage restraint Act and it was custom of the village so he did not feel any hesitant to contract marriage of his daughter in the age of 14. All matrimonial arrangements were finalized.

Meanwhile it came in knowledge of Mr. Yousif Sanderani who was member of Ba-Ikhtiar group and aware about the early marriage restraint Act, he asked father of Ameena that this act is against the law and also will be injurious for the health of his daughter. Mr. Yousif shared that when his efforts for convincing his father failed, he contacted mother of Ameena and also other members of Ba-Ikhtair group of his UC, they became successful in convincing mother of Ameena.

Despite of all these efforts Mr. Noor Khan, father of girl was bent upon marrying his daughter in age of 14 years and showed great annoyance upon Yousif and other members of group and also threatened them not to interfere in the family matter. Father of Ameena made complaint against Mr. Yousif and members of group before Wadera Chakar Khan Sanderani who issued threats to Yousif and members of group. Father of Ameena was feeling that if he will not be able to marry his daughter he would face humiliation in his village, so he was in favor of the marriage ceremony.

For Mr. Yousif, this was a matter of serious concern, either to sit back and let it happen or take the initiative to save a girl from a customary practice. He discussed the matter with some villagers and accompanied them to the Mr. Noor Sanderani father of the girl to convince him that it’s too early for girl to be married at this age and its consequences are very severe especially for health of his girl. It angered Mr. Noor Sanderani and he replied “these are our customs; we use to marry our girls at this age, we are satisfied with our customs and we prefer early marriages”
Mr. Yousif and members of group decided to approach police department and also raised this issue in local media. They met with Rao Mohd Aslam Superintendent of Police Sanghar and also approached to the DIG office Shaheed Benazirabad and informed about this issue of early age marriage. SHO police station took notice and this forced Mr. Meer Chaaker and Mr. Noor khan to step back and postpone the decision of marriage.

Mr. Yousif Sanderani shared that “I got this knowledge through the capacity building workshop organized by SAFWCO under ARC Project, I got the information that under family law early age marriages are not allowed and consent of girl is also mandatory for the marriage.” He added that project intervention has provided us the opportunity to get informed about state laws and enabled us to discuss justice related issues. This helps us in getting rid of un-necessary customs and creeds that are injurious to health.”

Hindu Community says No to Early Marriage

In Village Sawan Khan Gopang of District Hyderabad girls of Marwari communities are married at early ages and parents of the girls feel proud to get their daughters married in early ages. Mr. Ratno Mal councilor and members of Ba-ikhtiar group told that people of his village feel humiliation if they do not marry their daughters at the early age so mostly in his village Marvari community contracts marriages of their daughters without taking care of their purity age so it was great challenge for him to change this trend and convince members of Marvari community so that they may be restrained from this act. Ratno Mal and his friends did not lost their hopes and started discussing the issue of early marriage with likeminded people of the community and slowly and gradually started sensitizing the community members of the village and transformed legal knowledge about early marriage.

Mr. Ratno Mal councilor and members of Ba-Ikhtiar group conducted a session on of early marriages in their Village. During these sessions they got the commitments from the villagers about restraining from early marriages. During a session Ms. Kelam shared that “We are also human beings and will not allow any forced marriage and especially in younger age which disturbs mentality of the girls in their child age” Ms. Shanti added that “being a female I can understand the implication of early marriages of girls, I will be the first to say no to these decision in future”. She is the first lady to get education in her family.

Ms. Leela shared that “now the media has given us the strengthen to speak and stand for our rights so future belongs to those who are more Knowledge ones”

Ms. Maya said “I’m glad to hear that our minority community is now become aware about basic rights and this is step to bright future of our generation.”

Efforts of Ratno Mal resulted in enhancing the knowledge & awareness of Marvari communities about the early marriages restraint Act in their union council.

Case Studies

A Journey- long way to go

My name is Ayesha, I am studying in class 9 in Government Girls High School Shahdadpur. When I read Roshan Rahen book of the Yes I do Programme, I decided to take Kiran plus training. This training raised my empathies and an urge emerged to help the girls of my age living in relatively miserable conditions and are rather deprived more. Therefore I initially started visiting houses for raising the importance of girls education, this somehow enhance my rapport and helped a lot gaining parents confidence over me. Gradually, I started talks about the pros and cons of early marriages particularly in the context of health. Consciously or unconsciously unmarried girls are considered as burden particularly economic burden so parents want to lay off this burden as sooner as better. But I educated parents that getting married of girl below certain age according to law is heinous crime and its consequences are worse to be detained in jail even for some period. Such talks by girls always seemed to be taboos in our society, but thanks to my family and peers who supported me a lot and stood behind me. “I wish you could have told earlier so I somehow managed to convince my parents for delaying in marriage” said my childhood friend. She promised me that she now onwards will help me in reaching out more parents so the message be spread out across the area. Now people have started praising me that you are doing splendid job at such younger stage, but I always say them I am only a Kiran-a ray of hope and I need your support to make our society beautiful by educating our daughter and getting them married at appropriate age. My vision is keep striving for the girls’ right and engage every stakeholder of the society for this noble cause which I name it “A Journey”.

Change Ensues from Home

My name is Sameena Kanwal- a student of class 9 in Government Girls High School Khadro. It was one of the happiest moment of my life when I got Kiran plus training. Then I decided that I will be the representative of Kiran and spread the message that early marriages should be discouraged. I was planning to go out for meeting with mothers, my mother told me that “your brother is getting married”. I was literally shocked to hear these words because the girl whom he was going to marry is still young and just 16 years of age. I decided that I will start resisting from my own home and said my mother that it is not the right time for marriage because the bride is just 16 years old but she argued that look “I am getting too old to manage the household chores and you are going to school, therefore there must be someone who look into household affairs”. On hearing this I passionately convinced my mother and shared the details about law and its legal obligations, grateful of her that she agreed to discuss this matter with my father and parents of bride. Eventually they all agreed to extend the marriage dates, now me and my expected sister-in-law work together and spreading the awareness in different villages as well.

Courageous Counterpart

My name is Raja Mohammad Ibrahim and I am student of class 10 studying in Government Boys high school Shahdadpur. By reading the Roshan Rahen book I came to know that there are equal rights for both men and women. Prior to this I was of the view that male members of the society have privileged rights over their female counterparts. The book also enlightened me with basic principles of living healthy life and how they closely related with our decisions regarding different matters such as getting married is the important one. Before this I never linked this decision with the age particularly of girl but once gone through the book I realized that good health and good education are critical elements of healthy prosperous society. There is immense need to educate parents regarding health complications of early marriages, I am happy that I am part of this programme. I have initiated awareness task from my city, although people are reluctant to hear me and often criticize me talking about girls’ rights but I have never lose hope and will keep doing so and hope soon my other fellows will also join me to shape the equitable society.

Let Girls Educate

Some days ago, Safwco with collaboration of Rutgers provided us two days training on early marriages and quality education. Then I decided that I will impart these services in different communities. My name is Usma of class 10 studying in Government Boys High School. This was my first ever experience to work in the communities, although it is very challenging work but at the same time it is very interesting and provides me opportunity to interact with people belonging from diverse cultural, religious and ethnic background. While in discussing with people and educating them about the importance of education, I came to know that there is man who does not want to send his daughter to school. I went to the man and asked him why you do not want to send your daughter to school, he said “what she will gain by going to school, I won’t her let to do job so will marry her soon therefore there is no need to get education”. I convinced them by giving a hypothetical scenario to sensitize the issue, and said for example there is some medical emergency in the house and there is no man available, in such scenario it is hard for females to handle the situation if any of female member is not literate. Moreover, the poverty level is increasing day by day therefore working of women counterparts is becoming inevitable to feed the family. I am thankful of him that he agreed to send her daughter to school and now she goes to school regularly.

BREASTFEEDING CAMPAIGN 2017

Breastfeeding plays an important role in motherhood as well in mental and physical growth of new born babies. Breastfeeding is the best way to provide infants with the nutrients they need. WHO recommends exclusive breastfeeding starting within one hour after birth until a baby is 6 months old. Nutritious complementary foods should then be added while continuing to breastfeed for up to 2 years or beyond.

In today’s world where mankind has gone beyond the limits to facilitate its population to terrestrial planets on other hand it has also put some black marks to our society where mothers feel disgusted of giving breast milk to their infants’ due lack of education, social norms, no workplace support for breastfeeding, attitude and imaginary. SAFWCO launched the breastfeeding campaign in Taluka Maharabpur, to make people aware of importance of breastfeeding and neonatal health. The campaign was launched on 1st August, 2017 to 7th August, 2017 which is globally recognized as breastfeeding week by WHO - World Health Organization. The week was celebrated with joint hands of HELP who supported us realizing nutrition aspects on the subject as well as participated in conducting joint sessions. Total 253 women including lactating and pregnant women took active part in successfully running breastfeeding campaign around villages of Taluka Maharabpur. BF campaign was launch to impart knowledge regarding neonatal nutrition, proper diet, disease prevention, health and hygiene. During sessions IEC material of Behavior Change Communication III Campaign was used which consists key messages about nutrition and maternal care. During the sessions, SAFWCO team emphasis of breastfeeding and its best practices considering health and hygiene issues of mother and baby. It was discussed that during breastfeeding, antibodies and other germ-fighting factors pass from a mother to her baby and strengthen the immune system. This helps lower a baby’s chances of getting many infections, including Ear Infections, Diarrhea, Respiratory Infections and Meningitis. During the Focus Group Discussions, participants were asked to take observation in their social circle to sort out the cases where mother stopped breastfeeding and fed their baby on formula milk. Participants came with some examples and told others about complications those were arose after feeding formula milk. Participants were told about skin to skin contact with nursing mothers. Many nursing mothers really enjoy the experience of bonding so closely with their babies. And the skin-to-skin contact can enhance the emotional connection between mother and infant. SAFWCO team emphasized to take pre and post breastfeeding measures to ensure health and hygiene conditions. In the end, among all participants soaps were distributed.

A CRP brings CLTS for ODF status in his Village

Village Tahir Nagore, situated 50 kilometers away from Mahrabpur, is confronted with problem of poor sanitation and hygiene practices. Village consisted of 99 households, a moderate population without improve wash facilities remain affected by diseases caused by poor sanitation services. The population of village has fewer latrine in their houses but no sewerage system in the village hence sewerage water submerges in the streets and homes. Most of the population has exposure to the dirty water, children in higher ratio, infected by diarrhea and other intestinal diseases. Due to fewer numbers of latrines, children used to defecate in streets and fields. Villagers were not aware of hand washing practices in critical timings that leads to stunting in mothers and children.

In response to above problem, Community resource person identified the village, SAFWCO mobilization team has intervened in the village under UN Maternal & Child Stunting Reduction Program. Taking start with the mobilization process SAFWCO team has introduce their selves in the community and briefed them about the project. Believing in participatory approach they involved the community in drawing social map on the floor to identify the resources, hazards and number of household in the villages. To sensitize the community SAFWCO team has made transit walk to identify the open defecation in the village. through f-diagram it was told that feces return in their food through different media. Calculation of medical expenses triggered community and they committed to construct latrines. SAFWCO engineering team provided technical assistance to the villagers to achieve objective of open defecation free environment. To provide the sense of ownership, community based institution – VWC – were formed and linked with school wash club community resource person for sustaining the ODF status.

As the number of latrines increased, another problem of sewerage water arises. Villagers were encouraged through CRP and VWC and made commitment to abandon the open defecation, villagers voluntarily contributed some amount of money to resolve the issue of sewerage water. Engineering core of SAFWCO has suggested them to install new sewerage line to expel the water out of the village. Engineers provided the technical assistance and provide them design of sewerage line. Villagers raised funds of 90,000 PKR to install sewerage line to sustain the status of open defecation free environment in the village.

Villagers, CRP and wash club took active part in behavior change campaigns. Community led total sanitation approach has triggered the community and achieve ODF status. Village Tahir Nagore has become a role model of good hygiene to other villages in union council Jiyando Rajper.
Ms. Samina’s dream came true

Ms. Sameena is the resident of village Mahar Haji UC Jiyando rajper. She is one of the most talented and had inborn ability for social work. Despite of living in underprivileged community where female is not allowed to go out of home, she did not give up her studies and graduated from government degree college, Mahrabpur. The village of MS. Sameena is consist of 700 population of Vighion, Punjabi & Rajper tribes living together through generations. All the males have a traditional occupation to cultivate land as sharecropper, while other people work on daily wages in the similar crops to have little income for their families’ survival. Only a few people have government’s low-scale jobs in agriculture and education departments. There is a one-room primary school building, where 110 children are enrolled. Both, boys and girls sit together in the school. Two teachers are enough to handle pupils. Due to lack of awareness people of village Mahar Haji practices open defecation in fields and nearby their homes.

Children of the village Mahar Haji frequently caught by abdominal disease due to poor hygiene conditions of the village that increased the drop out ratio and absenteeism from school. Medical expenses of each family spiked over time that gauge the level of poverty of villagers. Ms. Sameena is always worried about her village and couldn’t find out the path till WASH interventions by SAFWCO in collaboration with UNICEF.

In response to above situation, SAFWCO in collaboration with UNICEF has conducted baseline survey and identified the village Mahar Haji for UN Maternal & Child Stunting Reduction Program, Mahrabpur. MS. Sameena’s dream came true and she was selected as community resource person in the project. She took an active part in capacity building program for community resource person and stand tall among other community resource persons.

Ms. Sameena shared, “I feel honored to be selected as a CRP by the VWC. I came to know about the MCSRP program when some of the members of SAFWCO came to our village and discussed the project objectives and interventions in a gathering. Most of the people from our village were present in that meeting. After that meeting our VWC was formed and I was selected as the CRP for my village. I was dreaming to see my village neat and clean from the time of my selection. To convert my dream into reality I talked to VWC members and we decided to discuss it with the community. In this regard, we met with some well-known and reputed individuals of the community to formulate a community plan of action for the improvement of our village. But the main problem was the scarcity of resources. To overcome this problem, we planned to collect funds from our friends, relatives and neighbors. After fund collection, we decided to build toilets for their home.”
Additionally, male and female CRPs also gave health and hygiene sessions at the school in which they discussed health and hygiene practices for children. In these sessions, children learnt how to wash hands with soap properly, using the toilet and the importance of washing hands. A community member stated, “I attended a meeting with Ms. Sameena and learnt a lot about health and hygiene. I was surprised to hear about the benefits of latrines and dangers of open defecation. I had a latrine at my home but we were used to defecating in the open. Now, I have made constructed a pit and connected it with the latrine so we are not defecating in the open anymore.”

Sharing his observation, Mr. Mohammad Din, president of vwc appreciated the efforts of SAFWCO and UNICEF on PATS PLUS interventions. Ms. Sameena dream came true they achieve the open defecation environment within their village.
